

Hi!

We could really use your input. We are participating in a process with other organizations across the Food Rescue Alliance to help redesign software and want to better understand how the [\[insert the software you use here\]](#) aids us in our daily goals. By spending a minute thinking about what is and isn't working in our current setups, we can take those lessons into something new.

Next time you use our software, take this 2 question survey [\[insert customized link\]](#) about what is and isn't working for you. Take the survey as many times as you want between now and Feb 19th. If something doesn't work well one day (or is perfect one day), please go in and write what that is down!

Recognizing how tools shape our daily logistics will help us distinguish between what we have to do because of the tool and what we have to do because it's a part of food logistics. Your input as a key stakeholder to this organization will enable us to design the best tool possible.
